HOPE, ARKANSAS, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1971

U.S. Asked to Probe State Prices

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The federal Bureau of Labor Statistics has been asked to conduct a consumer survey to determine if a broad range of goods and services costs more in Arkansas than in surrounding states.

Richard W. Longing, director of the state Department of Commerce, has requested the study as an outgrowth of the investigation he initiated into what he considers to be high Arkansas food prices.

Longing said his interest was sparked by responses from persons thanking him for the food price study who suggested that other consumer items in Arkansas also seemed high.

A principal concern to Longing is the cost of television sets and such major appliances as refrigerators and washing machines. He said they apparently were four to six per cent higher in Arkansas than in surrounding states.

If it is conducted, the survey would be made in six Arkansas cities to index the cost of 400 commodity and service items in relation to prices in cities of surrounding states and to identify factors that contribute to the cost, Longing said.

Among the survey items, in addition to appliances, are food, clothing, automobiles, drugs, house paint, haircuts, shoe repairs and fees of doctors and lawyers.

Longing said the Bureau of Labor Statistics had reported that it could not conduct the study now because of a lack of money and personnel, but he is hopeful that arrangements can be made to supply both the funds and the help.

He has asked Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., to assist in obtaining more funds for the agency and has offered the use of personnel in his department to carry out the survey, which would be made in Fort Smith, Texarkana, West Memphis, Little Rock, Pine Bluff and Fayetteville.

"We're not trying to get at any industry," Longing said. "We're trying to find out some of the in-born problems in Arkansas."

Longing said a 1968 study made by a University of Arkansas finance professor, Dr. Gene Lynch, had concluded that the 10 per cent ceiling the state Constitution imposed on annual simple interest was one of the reasons appliances and television sets were higher.

He said Lynch's study suggested that merchants felt they must receive 18 per cent interest to pay for the cost of credit and bad debts. He said the study reported that because merchants are limited by the 10 per cent ceiling, they make up the difference by hiking prices to credit and cash customers alike.

"I think everybody feels we've got a real good deal with the 10 per cent simple interest in the state," Longing said. "Personally, I've always thought it was great. But after reading this (Lynch's) report and talking to several people about it, I think it's a detriment to the state and to the people."

He said the limitation not only resulted in higher prices, but also discouraged retailers from moving into the state.

Longing said he had not delved into the problem deeply enough at this time to suggest remedies, but that the labor statistics survey would shed some light. Removal of the 10 per cent interest ceiling would require constitutional change.

Work Holiday Possibility

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A nationwide "work holiday" could result if organized labor fails to get what it considers fair treatment under Phase 2 of President Nixon's economic program, Herriek Roth, president of the Colorado Labor Council, said Tuesday.

As the 32-member state council wound up a two-day meeting, Roth said the possibility of a total work stoppage could come up at the AFL-CIO's national convention, to start in Florida Nov. 1, shortly before the new wage-price controls take effect.

Decision Near on Consumer Protection

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House drove toward a decision today on a consumer protection bill that backers say will help chase "the fringe operator, the fly-by-night, and the quick-buck artist" out of America's marketplace.

"Be wary of attempts to load this bill down with unreasonable and unworkable provisions or to weaken it to the point of ineffectiveness," Government Operations Committee Chairman Chet Holifield, D-Calif., told the House Tuesday.

In floor debate on the measure, he launched a sweeping assault on critics of the bill, including consumer advocate Ralph Nader who terms the committee's version a weak piece of legislation, "a consumer fraud."

Holifield said that after the proposed new consumer protection agency is set up as an independent governmental unit, as provided by the key feature of the bill, "we can modify any provision, giving it more powers or less, as the wisdom of Congress dictates."

5 Killed on Highways in Dist. in Sept.

The Police Services division in its monthly Statistical Review reported today that 50 persons died in traffic fatalities during the month of September. According to State Police figures, this is 13 fewer deaths than were recorded over the same period a year ago.

Captain Milton Mosier, District Commander of the Hope district for the Police Services division said that 5 persons died during the month of September on Arkansas highways in the Hope district. Counties in the district recording deaths were Little River with 2 deaths, Hempstead, Miller, and Pike 1 each. Clark, Howard, Lafayette, Nevada, and Sevier Counties were free of traffic fatalities during the reporting period.

Mosier said troopers in the 9 county area investigated 59 accidents. Hempstead and Miller Counties experienced the highest accident rate during September recording 11 accidents each. Followed by Nevada County with 9 accidents, Little River 8, Clark 6, Pike 5, Sevier 4, Howard 3, and Lafayette 2, accidents.

The report indicated that driving on wrong side of the road was the leading contributing cause in the accident followed by excessive speed, failure to yield the right of way, and following too close. The 50 traffic deaths during September occurred in 42 fatal collisions. State wide troopers investigated 1021 accidents during the month of September.

No, Thank You! Many Invitations That You Better Turn Down

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Nobody likes a yes man, but everybody likes to be agreeable and go along with the other fellow as far as he can.

And that's where he is likely to get in trouble. It is hard to draw the line, and he goes along too far for his own good. Sometimes in life a fellow has to show a little backbone by refusing to accede to the wishes or suggestions of others. The backbone he saves may be his own. He has to learn when to say no.

Here, for example, are a few invitations which, if accepted, probably will lead only to disaster, dismay, sorrow, regret or—at the least—a black eye.

"Have some more of this wine. I know it's good, because I made it myself."

"So this is your first grandson. What do I think of him?" Well, he has a pretty blank ex-

Welfare Roll Up 10,560

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's welfare rolls rose by 10,560 persons in August, the first month to fully reflect the state's new policies to cut relief costs, the city Department of Social Services reported Tuesday.

The department said there were 1,206,973 New Yorkers on welfare, 15 per cent of the city's population.

The size of rolls had been leveling off in April-May. In May, the state reduced welfare grants by 10 per cent for all recipients except the aged, blind and disabled.

City Swaps Land, Okays Contract

The Hope City Board of Directors met for their regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday night in the courtroom at City Hall.

A motion was passed to exchange some land belonging to the city on the southside of Highway 32 between Oakhaven and Highway 4 for some land belonging to Ernest, Galen, and Arval May on the northside of Highway 32. This exchange was first discussed the early part of this year, but action had been deferred. It was decided to proceed with this because there is an industry interested in some city land joining part of the May property and it may be necessary for the industry to also have some of the May property.

The acreage and value of land is approximately the same. The values were set by two independent appraisals. This exchange also will help square up the property for both parties with highways rather than with section lands.

A resolution was passed approving the contract with W. C. Lee Company of Texarkana for the water and sewer work on South Main Street. The original bid was received on September 14, 1971 in the amount of $174,744.45. After some revisions in prices the final contract was reduced to $169,538.50. It is not known exactly when work will begin because it will have to be coordinated between the highway contractor, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company and Lee.

It is possible that W. C. Lee Company may start some of the work soon that will not be affected by the other work. The city street department will also have work to do on streets leading off Main Street. Electric service and street lighting will also have to be replaced.

Sappers Blow Up 2 U.S. Helicopters

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong sappers blew up two U.S. helicopters early today and damaged three others in an attack eight miles northeast of Saigon, the U.S. Command announced.

The Command also reported that the North Vietnamese fired two surface-to-air missiles—SAMS—at an American reconnaissance plane and its two fighter-bomber escorts over North Vietnam. The missiles missed, and the escorts did not retaliate, the command said.

A spokesman said the sappers slipped into the Di An base camp during the night and attacked the parked UH1 helicopters with demolition charges.

The helicopters at Di An have been supporting a South Vietnamese counteroffensive along the Cambodian border. They fly out of the Tay Ninh forward base, 55 miles northwest of Saigon, but return to Di An each night because it is considered safer than Tay Ninh.

A sixth helicopter—an AH1 Cobra gunship—was shot down half a mile from U.S. Fire Base Pace, on the Cambodian border in the area of the South Vietnamese counteroffensive.

The U.S. Command said two crewmen were wounded in the crash, and at least one other American was wounded when 35 mortar rounds hit the base on the 18th day of shelling.

School Desegregation Disputes Head List of Cases Court to Review

WASHINGTON (AP) — New school desegregation disputes head a list of 21 cases granted review by the Supreme Court.

Despite two vacancies, the court handed down more than 400 orders Tuesday, the first round of decisions of the 1971-72 term.

Swept aside were appeals challenging the constitutionality of U.S. military action in Southeast Asia and the government's "Philadelphia plan" for giving minority groups construction jobs.

The war test, brought by civil liberties lawyers, was rejected, 5 to 2. The court has consistently spurned suits that contend soldiers cannot be sent to Vietnam without a congressional declaration of war.

Quits Driving at Age 105

BROKEN ARROW, Okla. (AP) — At the age of 105, William Newton Williams has quit driving and sold his car.

"I drove downtown a couple of months ago, turned the corner and jumped the curb," he said. "People were laughing at me. I drove on down the block and turned the corner where I again cut across the curbing."

"Both times the curbing shook the car and me, too."

"I told myself: 'This is your last drive into town. I see it won't do. You will kill yourself or somebody else.'"

"My eyes, hearing and coordination have failed me so I've decided to stay home," said Williams, a real estate man and one of the founders of Broken Arrow.

Nixon's Announced Trip to Moscow No Surprise to Many Diplomats

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's announcement that he will attend a summit conference in Moscow next May should have come as no surprise, say U.S. officials and foreign diplomats.

"It is a logical extension of the growing improvement in American-Russian dealings since Nixon took office," one diplomat said. "The only surprise is that so few people were talking about the possibility."

One of those who did talk in advance about such a trip was Soviet Communist party Chairman Leonid Brezhnev, who U.S. sources say had been discussing a Nixon visit with several people for several weeks.

But whether it should have been a surprise, the fact is that Nixon did catch many people off balance when he appeared unexpectedly at the routine Tuesday morning news briefing and said:

"The leaders of the United States and the Soviet Union in their exchanges during the past year, have agreed that a meeting between them would be desirable once sufficient progress had been made in negotiations at lower levels."

"In light of the recent advances in bilateral and multilateral negotiations involving the two countries, it has been agreed that such a meeting will take place in Moscow in the latter part of May 1972."

Following reading of that announcement, released at the same time in Moscow, the President told questioning newsmen he had agreed to the Moscow summit because of "a possibility of making significant progress."

Although he declined to detail what areas will be discussed with the Soviet leaders, Nixon indicated the talks will cover arms control, the Mideast, a European security conference and a balanced, mutual troop cut in Central Europe.

Nixon was specific in outlining the areas of progress he said led to the summit talk agreement.

"We have had a treaty with regard to the seabeds. We have had one with regard to biological weapons. We have had an agreement coming out of the SALT talks (strategic arms limitation talks) with regard to the hotline and accidental war and, of course, most important of all—and I think this is the item that, for both us and for them, led us to conclude that now was the time for a summit meeting—we have had an agreement on Berlin."

Allies Told U.S. Can't Police World

By WALTER MEARS
Associated Press Writer

ANKARA (AP) — Turkey and other allies now understand that the United States cannot be "the policeman of the world any more," said Vice President Spiro T. Agnew as he prepared to fly to Iran today to join in celebration of the 2,500th anniversary of the Persian monarchy.

Agnew concluded two days of conferences with Turkish officials Tuesday night and said he found the outlook "very, very encouraging."

"I find the attitudes of the officials with whom I talked are very solidly pro-NATO, anti-Communist, pro-West in the sense of the identity with the rest of the Western community," the vice president said.

Agnew praised the efforts of Premier Nihat Erim's government to institute political, educational and land reforms. He said the government "seems to be a very firmly established one," but Erim faces political discord and possible crisis, in part because of conservative resistance to his reform proposals.

Agnew said he assured the Turks "we're not going to abandon our commitment to the treaty countries, and we recognize they must be assured."

Nixon Wins Labor, Turns to Boards

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — After winning organized labor's cooperation in his post-freeze economic controls, President Nixon turned today to lining up members for two key boards that will vote on future wage-price increases.

With the 90-day wage-price freeze due to expire Nov. 13, time is becoming crucial on the appointments. The boards must be operating with wage and price guidelines developed by that time.

The White House said membership on the 15-member Pay Board and the 7-member Price Commission will be announced soon. Some potential members contacted "are not particularly interested," said one official.

As the search for members went on, the administration readied legislation that may spell out details of Nixon's Phase 2 program.

Not only would the bill provide standby authority to control interest and dividends, one officials said, but it would create a panel of judges to hear wage-price cases and would empower the Pay Board and the Price Commission to issue subpoenas.

The threat of a labor boycott of post-freeze controls collapsed Tuesday when the nation's three most powerful union leaders agreed to help Nixon's Pay Board try to control inflation.

But the labor leaders, AFL-CIO President George Meany, Teamsters President Frank E. Fitzsimmons and United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock, acted only after Nixon gave assurances the tripartite board's decisions would not be subject to a veto by the Cost of Living Council.

The President did so in a memorandum sent to the labor leaders personally initiated with his "OK."

"We will serve on the Pay Board," said the union leaders, who represent some 17 million workers. Nixon responded by saying "the country won" by the decision.

But the agreement between labor leaders and the administration is still fuzzy. It still is not clear how the post-freeze mechanisms will operate. Labor had withheld its support of Phase 2 because the administration held out the possibility the Cost of Living Council could exercise veto power over general wage criteria developed by the Pay Board.

The memorandum initiated by Nixon carried this key paragraph:

"The COLC will not approve, disapprove or serve as an appeal level for case decisions made by the Pay Board and the Price Commission and it will not approve, revise, veto or revoke specific standards or criteria developed by the Pay Board and Price Commission."

No Important Change in the Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
No important temperature changes are expected in Arkansas through tomorrow.

High Tuesday ranged from 79 at El Dorado to 87 at Jonesboro, Texarkana and Fort Smith. High today and Thursday are forecast in the upper 70s to mid 80s.

Cloudiness increased in the state during the night as moist air moved in from the south. A weak cold front extended this morning from a low pressure center over central Illinois through the extreme northwest corner of Arkansas to the southeast corner of New Mexico. The front was expected to continue to move southward. The frontal system is expected to produce cloudy conditions over most of the state today and increase the chance of showers in the southern portion of the state.

Ex-Secretary of State Acheson Dies

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson died Tuesday night, 18 years after leaving the post he used to establish policies that still serve as the foundation for much of America's diplomatic strategy.

Acheson, 78, was found slumped over his desk about 6 p.m. at the Sandy Spring, Md., farm he used as a refuge from the pressures of a public career encompassing some of the nation's monumental crises.

The family doctor said the death, apparently resulted from a heart attack.

Although he served as an important U.S. negotiator in the monetary reforms conference of the early 1930s, it was as secretary of state during the last four years of the Harry S. Truman administration that Acheson made his mark on American destiny.

During the period from 1949 to 1953, Acheson was the major factor in formulating the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, signing the peace treaty with Japan, outlining the political strategy of the Korean war, determining U.S. attitudes toward the Communist government of China and resisting the domestic onslaught of the so-called McCarthy era.

While attitudes toward China and Moscow are now relaxing, many of these policies remain in effect today under the administration of a Republican President who was one of Acheson's major critics during the Truman years—Richard Nixon.

And it was Nixon who led the tributes to Acheson after his death.

"He was a man not only of great achievement," the President said in a statement, "but also of rare intellect, of rigorous conscience and of profound devotion to his country."

Former President Truman, described by Acheson as one of the greatest Americans, did not have an immediate comment but Mrs. Truman said "I know he'll be very disturbed."

It was another part of President Nixon's statement that the importance of Acheson to today's world was underlined.

"Of those who stand for a time in places of power many are quickly forgotten," Nixon said. "It is a measure of Dean Acheson's stature as man and statesman that almost 20 years after his service as secretary of state he continued to be recognized as one of the towering figures of his time."

In a time when presidents make most of their own foreign policy, it is instructive to look back on the Acheson years when President Truman gave his secretary of state a near free hand in diplomatic affairs.

It was with this freedom that Acheson, a Connecticut-born aristocrat with a sharp tongue and haughty manner, established the basic U.S. Cold War strategy.

Starting with the premise that the Soviet Union was a major threat to world security, Acheson implemented a series of alliances designed to surround Russia with enough military and economic might to deter any thought of aggression.

Gas Hearing Involves DeQueen

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Federal Power Commission hearing on a request by the De Queen Gas Co. for additional gas was to resume today with testimony expected from city officials and officials of Louisiana - Nevada Transit Co.

The De Queen Gas Co. purchases natural gas from the transit firm and then supplies the gas to several cities, including Horatio and Mena.

Louisiana - Nevada says its parent firm, Ideal Basic Industries, needs the additional gas for operation of a cement plant at Okay, Ark. De Queen officials contend, however, that human needs are more important than the needs of the cement plant.

$100 Million for Economic Inequities

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon outlined today a two-year $100 million plan to combat the "enormous economic inequities" which he said still confront minority businessmen.

In a special message to Congress, Nixon proposed legislation intended to establish 100 local centers to "bring together a vast array of training, advice and information for minority businessmen."

"There is no easy way to eliminate the barriers which now prevent many who are members of minority groups from controlling their fair share of American business," Nixon said. "Yet the long-range health of our economy—and, indeed, of our entire society—requires us to remove these barriers as quickly as possible."

Major elements of the program which Nixon described as comprehensive yet flexible are:—$100 million in appropriations in the next 18 months to expand the minority enterprise program. He disclosed he would propose a budget of $63.6 million in fiscal 1973 for the Office of Minority Business Enterprise.

—Legislation to bolster the Minority Enterprise Small Business Investment Companies, which make loans from a pool of federal and private capital. He asked that the required private capital for a new MESBIC be cut from $1 million to $500,000, that the Small Business Administration be allowed to purchase preferred stock of MESBICs and that SBA be allowed to grant low interest loans to the investment companies.

—An executive order giving the Secretary of Commerce increased authority over all federal activities in the minority enterprise field.

—Passage of pending legislation to create a new assistant secretary for minority enterprise in the Commerce Department and to alter tax laws to ease "the burden on small, marginal businessmen."

The President's message said the $100 million program is in addition to grants, loans, guarantees and purchases by other federal agencies.

Small Cities Benefit From Large C of C

By KENNETH FRY
Fort Smith Southwest Times Record

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Smaller cities in Arkansas can now benefit from the larger and more experienced Chambers of Commerce in the state.

The Arkansas Chamber of Commerce Executives has established a "consulting service" to provide assistance to these chamber managers who have problems.

Larry Clark of Fort Smith, president of ACCE, said the service is designed to help those chambers which do not have full-time staff people and chamber managers throughout the state who may need help with specific problems.

Clark, assistant manager of the Fort Smith chamber, said the purpose of the service is to use qualified, experienced chamber personnel to help other communities and other chamber managers with their problems.

"We want to try this and see if it will work," Clark said. "If it does, I think ACCE will be providing a constructive service to local chambers of commerce in Arkansas."

Clark pointed out this is the first year for the ACCE to develop some permanent, on-going programs.

The organization also has launched an active membership campaign program of work development and careers program to inform young people of opportunities in the chamber of commerce profession.

Only 15 Days for Election Petitions

Eligible voters have only 15 days left in which to circulate and sign nominating petitions for ASC community committees.

October 27 is the final date petitions may be filed at the Hempstead County ASCS Office. Mail elections are set for December 1.

"I want to re-emphasize to farmers who are eligible to vote that nominating candidates by petition is of prime importance. If six or more eligible candidates are nominated by petition in an ASC community, no other names will go on the ballot. In the past, the incumbent community committee may nominate only if fewer than six eligible candidates are nominated by petition—and the committee may nominate only the number of candidates needed to make up a full slate of six nominees," Ralph Montgomery Chairman of the Hempstead County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said.

No special forms are required for a petition—only a sheet of paper naming the candidates and the ASC community and containing a certification that the candidate is willing to serve if elected. For convenience a blank petition form was reproduced on the back of a letter sent to all known eligible voters about October 1. Signatures of at least three eligible voters in the community are required on each petition. Only one candidate may be named on a petition but voters may sign as many petitions as they want.

In general, to be eligible either to become a candidate or to vote, a person must have a farm interest in the community and must be eligible to participate in one or more programs administered by the County ASCS Office, along with a list of known eligible voters in the county.

Each year eligible farmers nominate and elect ASC community committees of three members and two alternates. The community committees elect persons to fill vacancies on their County ASC Committee and also help administer farm acreage allotments and bases, and conservation cost sharing.

"They are the key people the U. S. Department of Agriculture relies upon for direct contact with producers. Community committees help keep farmers informed of farm program provisions. They advise their County ASC Committee on the farm situation in their communities and assist in administering farm programs on the local level. Mr. Montgomery explained.

"Our Hempstead County ASC Committee hopes that this year farmers will nominate by petition every candidate whose name goes on a ballot," he concluded.

Canton Fair Going on as Usual

By FORREST EDWARDS
Associated Press Writer

HONG KONG (AP) — Despite speculation of a power struggle in Peking, Red China is getting ready for a bigger-than-ever trade showcase in Canton.

Reports from the South China metropolis indicate that preparations for the autumn trade fair opening this weekend are far more extensive and businesslike than they have been since before Mao Tse-tung's Cultural Revolution began in 1966.

More important, according to both the reports from Canton and from Hong Kong businessmen with trade contacts in China, this is going to be a "selling and buying" event instead of just a display of what China can produce.

In recent years, the spring and fall Canton fairs have shown a variety of relatively sophisticated industrial machinery as well as an assortment of consumer goods and raw materials.

But many businessmen returning from those fairs reported that much of what was on display could not be bought. Either it was not for "immediate sale," "sold out" or "already committed."

This fall, however, Canton and Hong Kong sources report that a good portion of the articles are going to be for sale, including industrial machinery, home appliances, consumer goods.

Many of the home appliances and a considerable amount of the less sophisticated industrial machinery, according to these sources, appear to have been designed for and probably will be priced for less developed areas in Asia and Africa.

Display and sale of Chinese products is not the sole purpose of the fair.

Hundreds of British, European and Japanese firms are sending in representatives to discuss sale of their products to Chinese buyers.

One British firm with a major base in Hong Kong is going to be pushing machinery to produce industrial tools.

Don Abbott, Administrator of Hempstead Memorial Hospital was the guest speaker at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting. He was presented by Kiwanian Larry Patterson who also introduced Ray Woodard, the Assistant to Mr. Abbott.

Mr. Abbott gave some very interesting statistics concerning the operation of the hospital. In the fiscal year ending June 30, there were 15,994 patient days. 2,186 patients were admitted, spending an average of a little over 7 days for each admission. The dollar volume amounted to $913,000.

Costs have increased tremendously in the health field. In 1965 the lowest priced semi-private room was $12.00 a day. This same room today is $26.00, but there is another side to the picture. Salaries account for approximately 67 per cent of the budget of Memorial Hospital. In 1965 Nurses Aids were paid 63¢ an hour. Today this figure is $1.60. A Licensed Practical Nurse was paid 86¢ an hour in 1965 and this figure today averages $2.22.

Medicare has increased the patient load as well as the need for personnel. Two additional employees are required just to do Medicare paper work. The hospital is limited to what may be charged the Medicare patient and the patient may not be billed for any additional costs of his hospital stay except for the first $60.00 or for non covered charges or co-insurance. In the last fiscal year $26,000 was charged off due largely to this regulation.

"Sure, why not. What kind of a pal is he who wouldn't cosign a $1,500 auto loan for an old friend?"

"Well, if the rest of the gang wants to play no-limit poker, I ain't the kind of guy to be a spoil sport."

"So, you'd like to settle it outside, Mac? Just show me which way is outside, and outside we go. You can bring both your buddies along, too, to pick you up and dust you off."

"Of course I can pick up the tickets and let you pay me later, anything to oblige. Noblesse oblige, as we say in Missouri."

"You want me to tell you what I really think of the custom of both the bride and bridegroom exchanging wedding rings? Well, frankly, I think it's just a bride's way of advertising to the world that she has finally hooked a husband."

"Well, darling, I never lit a cigarette before for a big handsome hippie while he was driving a car in a strong wind, but hand me your lighter. I'll try not to set fire to your beard."

But Agnew said he told Turkish officials that Americans are dismayed at "leftist propaganda around the world... unjustified accusations of imperialism, of what you might call an aggressive foreign policy."

"They understand that the United States cannot be physically present as the policeman of the world any more. That's completely evident to them."

Memorial Hospital is doing everything they can to upgrade patient care. They are dedicated to serving humanity.

In the last few months a two bed Intensive Care Unit primarily for heart patients has been established and is staffed by two Registered Nurses who have taken special courses in this field. An in-service training program has been started. Plans are already underway to purchase new X-Ray equipment and new lab equipment. A room beautification project has been started and other improvements are in the making.

"The hospital administration and board are facing some decisions concerning major maintenance problems, but plans are being made to meet them," said Mr. Abbott.

Club treasurer, Clifford Franks, reported a net profit of between $400 and $500 from the recent Kiwanis Pancake Supper.

Four Kiwanians from the Prescott Club, Gene Cloer, Ray Brock, Fred Ridling, Jr., and Tilman McBrayer, visited with the Hope Club for an Inter-Club meeting. Byron Cunningham of Hope was a guest at Tuesday's meeting and Edwin Jackson of Columbus was introduced as the newest member of Hope Kiwanis Club.

Women Are Definitely on Court List

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says at least two women, in addition to Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., are among those being considered for nomination to the Supreme Court.

At a news conference Tuesday, Nixon mentioned the possibility of naming a woman and confirmed reports that Byrd "is definitely on the list."

"I don't rule out Sen. Byrd and I certainly don't rule out a woman," Nixon added. "I will make the nominations next week."

Later he said, "At least two women are under consideration at this time."

Sources said other members of Congress—including Republican Sens. Robert Griffin of Michigan and Howard Baker of Tennessee—also have been discussed for the vacancies left by the retirements last month of the late Hugo L. Black and John M. Harlan.

The nominations, if approved by the Senate, would bring to four the number of justices Nixon has placed on the nine-member court since taking office. Two other Nixon nominees (G. Harrold Carswell and Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.) were rejected by the Senate.

Although Byrd, 53, has a liberal voting record on economic issues, he has opposed some major civil rights legislation, has taken a strong law-and-order stand, and has been highly critical of some Supreme Court decisions.

Byrd was once a member of the Klu Klux Klan—as was Justice Black—but like Black, Byrd later disavowed his relationship with the white-supremacy group.

There was no solid White House indication as to the identities of the two women. Speculation so far has centered on Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Mich.; U.S. District Court Judge Cornelia Kennedy of Detroit; Superior Court Judge Sylvia Bacon of the District of Columbia; and Rita Hauser, U.S. representative to the United Nations' Human Rights Commission.

Matt. 25:40 was the scripture used for the message that dealt with the ecumenical movement. "Man is a distinct creation," the speaker said and added, "human relationship is in three parts: relationship to God, to others and to ourselves." She closed with a moving story, "Angel of Happy Hollow."

From a table covered in pink and overlaid in white net, punch, a variety of cakes, nuts and mints were served.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — When CBS' National Geographic series started several seasons back, one of its most fascinating programs showed scientist Jane Goodall's work in Africa studying chimpanzees.

A return visit to the British woman's open air laboratory was the highlight of National Geographic's "Monkeys, Apes and Men" on Tuesday night. Miss Goodall's chimps started this time in a rather unpleasant scene when they were given a tubful of bananas.

The biggest, toughest chimps grabbed as many as they could. Another made a pile of bananas and guarded it furiously. Stronger chimps made the weaker ones beg for the fruit.

Human reactions in primates, apes and monkeys were examined throughout the hour. It concentrated on some studies seeking the origins of man and clues about human behavior.

A California scientist, Diane Fossey, was shown as she nibbled leaves in the company of some Central African gorillas. She has lived among them four years, gained their confidence and has found that, in spite of their forbidding appearance, they are really shy, timid creatures—and strictly vegetarians.

Baboons were shown to have a definite social structure, with dominant males the warriors of the troop.

There was film showing tests in a Wisconsin laboratory on rhesus monkeys which are expected to be helpful in learning more about child behavior. One researcher has found, for instance, that young monkeys reared in comfortable family situations grow up to be better adjusted and self-confident adults.

The report was an especially delightful hour.

ABC's "Movie of the Week" Tuesday turned out to be an old-fashioned horror film in spite of modern settings and bold dialogue. "A Taste of Evil" was full of creaking doors, high screams, scary footsteps and a corpse that kept appearing and disappearing.

Barbara Parkins played a young woman returning to her rich family after years in a Swiss sanitarium recovering from mental shock induced by a physical assault when she was 13.

Barbara Stanwyck turned in a workmanlike job as the concerned mother of the frightened girl but was even more effective when she was revealed as a tough, unrepentant schemer.

It was pretty complicated and preposterous, but it kept the viewer on the edge of the easy chair. "Movie of the Week" this season is specializing in suspense, horror and the off-beat.

The first U.S. Congress met in New York City from Mar. 4, 1789, to Sept. 29, 1789. The 13 states were represented by 26 senators and 65 representatives. The World Almanac recalls Congress later met briefly in Philadelphia, but soon moved to Washington, D.C. where the second session of the Sixth Congress convened Nov. 17, 1800.

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

"OTHER WOMAN" IS BIGGEST MAIL-PRODUCER
Dear Helen:

What would you consider the biggest all-time mail-getter of any subject you discuss in your column? I mean what general area of human relations inspires most comments in return? — You've said that whenever you mention religion or animals, you anticipate a flood of mail. Anything top these? —CURIOUS
Dear Curious:

My biggest all-time mail-getter? The "Other Woman." (No pun intended.)

Whenever I publish a letter either damning or defending extramarital affairs, I brace myself for a deluge. Here are samples:

Dear Helen:
That smugly "Confident Wife" who bragged that though her husband strays, he'll never leave her, is probably right. But what a miserable life for both of them! And how often it happens!

Many wives who claim to give their men stability, family, the prestige of a well-ordered house and country club acceptance are in fact giving them ulcers or a coronary, not to mention the bills, nagging and rejection. (The old "I'm too tired," or "Not tonight, dear" routine.)

I find it most tragic that any man should become so desperate for warmth and tenderness that he feels he must seek this in another woman. —KING
NOTE FROM H:

And how doubly tragic that a wife should feel "confident" simply because she can keep a man married to her, even though she can't keep the man. —H.

Dear Helen:
The "Other Woman" does not make the marriage go bad. She is the result, not the cause. In fact, sometimes such an outlet can cut down on the fights and hatred at home.

But "Other Women" who dream of becoming wives had better wake up. He'll talk of "being married to you" (How wonderful it would be), but NOT of "marrying you." —RESIGNED O.W.

Dear Helen:

Too often wives are blamed when men stray to Other Women. Hear my story:

My husband loves and appreciates me. He kiddingly calls me his little sexpot, and I'm a good housekeeper and conversationalist, too. Yet periodically he tries for a new conquest to bolster a shaky ego. Feelings of insecurity and inferiority date back to his children. A wife alone is sometimes not enough, and so he must "prove" himself with other women.

Afterwards, there are great regrets and renewed affection toward me. I can cope with this problem only by showing my love and appreciation all the time, giving my husband the assurance he needs, so that eventually he may become more secure within himself and less likely to use "the other woman" as a crutch for his ailing ego. —A WIFE

Dear Helen:

Most wives picture an O.W. as a tight-skirted, hard-looking female who can't wait to get a husband—any husband—to bed. The facts is that she's usually the sweet, innocent-looking person a wife would least suspect.

An O.W. enjoys the side of a husband the wife hasn't seen since they were dating, and he enjoys the O.W. because she treats him as "the greatest," not a household object. Sometimes sex is secondary. He just wants to feel important again. —UNGLAMOROUS O.W.

Dear Helen:

If "Other Women" are so great, understanding, loving, etc., how come they can't get men of their own, instead of stealing our husbands? —IRATE WIFE

Dear Helen:

My wife and I were miserable in our marriage. We might have continued mismatched, had it not been for the "Other Woman" who is now my second wife.

We fell in love by accident, fought it for a long time. But once I leveled with my first wife, she seemed almost relieved that the farce was at an end. We don't blame each other—in fact, now that we don't have to live together, we're good friends. She has also remarried—to someone who is right for her. Our children have compatible parents for the first time, and they are much happier.

My point is this: we can't always be lucky enough to find the right mate the first time around. Blanket condemnation of (take your choice) the other woman, the "inadequate wife," or the "philandering husband" is wrong. They can all be fine people whose lives got scrambled wrong and who need a second chance. —SECOND TIME AROUND

Dear Readers:

And so it goes: The Other Woman is sinner, savior, thief, sufferer or winner, depending on

Garbage Tells a Lot About a Person

NEW YORK (AP) — "Let's go on a garbage hunt tonight—at David Rockefeller's. Maybe we'll find some used money," suggested Alan J. Webberman, 26-year-old self-styled garbage analyst.

"You can tell a lot about a person from their garbage—their politics, their standard of living," says Webberman. A Yippee with a Groucho Marx sense of humor, he is best known for his study and criticism of poet-singer Bob Dylan.

Webberman prepares for the garbage raid with the dignity of a surgeon, as he paces around his immaculate Bowery apartment. He puts on a clean white shirt. He pulls his halo of red curls back into the semblance of a Paul Revere pony tail and adjusts his gold-rimmed glasses. He folds a fresh plastic garbage bag, and pockets a scribbled address and $50 in cash for emergencies.

Uptown, the street is dark and deserted. It is 1 a.m. Webberman calmly approaches the home of David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank and brother of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. No lights are on. He looks around for a policeman.

"Keep watch," he says, slipping past the iron fence and lifting the lid of the garbage bin. He extracts a small brown paper bag, spotted with grease, and holds it up, grinning.

Once away from the scene, he paws through the remains, spread on the plastic sheet. But the Rockefeller take is disappointing—a few gnawed chicken bones and a half-finished jar of pickled beets.

who describes her. Because many will, again, in answer to this column—my mail box will overflow next week. —H.

Picks Texas to Again Beat Porkers

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — And now it's Colorado's turn to try and slow down the yardage-hungry Oklahoma Sooners.

"The home field might give Oklahoma a slight edge," says Nebraska's Bob Devaney of Saturday's battle of Big Eight unbeatens, the nationally second-ranked Sooners and the sixth-ranked Buffaloes.

"An absolutely awesome offense," said Darrell Royal after Oklahoma trimmed his Texas team 48-27 Saturday, rushing for 435 yards.

"The most dynamic offense in college football," says Colorado's Eddie Crowder, mentioning the entire backfield of quarterback Jack Mildren, halfbacks Greg Pruitt and Joe Wylie, fullback Leon Crosswhite and Roy Bell, who subbed for the injured Wylie (ankle sprain) against Texas.

"Those are the guys," said Crowder. "I'm not afraid of the other 62,000 who'll be there. Pruitt looks to me like the best back in the conference since Gale Sayers and he's doing it more consistently."

Consistently enough to gain 205 yards against Southern Cal and 216 against Texas and be named national Back of the Week twice running by The Associated Press.

"There's going to be a lot of electricity down here," says Oklahoma's Chuck Fairbanks. That being the case, we'll go with Franklin's team (split end Willie, that is). OKLAHOMA.

Kansas at Nebraska—"If the ball bounced right for us, we have a chance to win the game," says Don Fambrough of Kansas. "But we're not fooling ourselves. We have to play a great game. I can't see a weakness in their team."

Pirates Will Try to Even Series Tonight

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Left-hander Luke Walker, who has spent much of the season in Manager Danny Murtaugh's doghouse, had the job of keeping Pittsburgh rebounding against Baltimore tonight in the last World Series game ever played at night.

The Pirates, stung for two straight losses in Baltimore, bounced back with a 5-1 victory Tuesday. It came on the three-hit pitching of Steve Blass—who left his personal scouting report 250 miles away—and a three-run homer by Bob Robertson, who missed a bunt sign and swung away.

Now if Walker can make a couple of mistakes like that, Pittsburgh will really be back in business.

Walker has a deceptive record. He was 10-3 during the regular season but won four of those decisions in the final month.

Murtaugh however, suspected that he was working with a sore arm—a cardinal sin in the Pirate Manager's mind. So Walker was passed over in the playoff series against San Francisco and in the first two Series games at Baltimore, when the Orioles belted the Pirate pitching staff.

"Sure, I've wondered a lot about why I haven't been used," said Walker. "But I just keep my mouth shut. Number 40 (Murtaugh) has the answers."

Meanwhile, Murtaugh hoped Walker was the answer for the Pirates against Pat Dobson, the fourth 20-game winner the Orioles have thrown at the Pirates.

Pittsburgh finally caught up with one of the Birds' aces in the third game when Robertson rifled his homer against Mike Cuellar to put the icing on Blass's strong pitching job. The funny part of the homer was that it was supposed to be a bunt.

Roberto Clemente opened the seventh inning by reaching first on an error by Cuellar. Then Willie Stargell walked for the third time in the game. That brought up Robertson and Murtaugh flashed a swing sign on the second pitch. Robertson fouled the ball off, and in the dugout, Murtaugh decided to switch signs.

"We saw that Brooks Robinson was playing him deep at third," said Murtaugh, "so we decided to bunt."

Third base coach Frank Ocek dutifully passed the bunt sign along and both runners saw it. But Robertson didn't. He swung away and the ball soared over the 385-foot sign in right center for a three-run homer.

When the red-haired slugger crossed home plate, Stargell greeted him with a grin and said: "That's the way to bunt."

That's when Robertson realized he had missed a sign.

"It's the first time I've missed one all year," he said. "If I had seen it, I would have bunted. But a bunt was the farthest thing from my mind. I wanted to swing the bat."

When Robertson got to the dugout he went over to Murtaugh.

"I guess I fouled up," the slugger told the manager.

"Possibly," replied the laconic skipper, just a hint of a smile curling his lip.

The three-run cushion was plenty for Blass, who had been in a 2-1 pressure cooker until Robertson connected.

"I was so excited about being in a World Series game, that I didn't sleep all night," Blass said. "I kept lying awake, thinking about lots of things. How things were at home the weather... Frank Robinson... Brooks Robinson... Boog Powell... Willie McCovey... Hank Aaron..."

Asked if he had prepared for the Orioles in any special way, Blass said he had watched the first two games of the Series on a monitor television in the dressing room at Baltimore.

"I made some notes. And to show you how much they helped me, I forgot them and left them in Baltimore."

So, with nothing more than the regular Pirate scouting report to work from, Blass went about the job of dealing with the Orioles, who had slugged 24 hits and 16 runs in the first two games of the Series.

I was totally confused about what to do after they hit all those homers in the first game and all those singles in the next one," said Blass.

Manager Murtaugh talked the problem over with Blass before the game.

"Dagobert told me to pitch my own game," Blass said. "If I got beat, I wanted it to be against my best stuff."

He put everything in the right spot," said Manager Earl Weaver of the Orioles.

Porkers Go Through a Hard Workout

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks worked for two-hours in pads Tuesday in preparation for Saturday's showdown with Texas. Coach Frank Broyles said the defense worked on play recognition and the offense worked on execution.

Broyles said the defense would have no mental problem preparing for the Longhorns, but there was a problem with play recognition.

"The defense had a full day of trying to recognize plays out of the wishbone," Broyles said. "There is so much deception it is hard to find exactly where the ball might be."

Broyles said fullback Russ Garber's toe remained too sore for him to practice Tuesday, but Broyles expected Garber to return to practice today.

Va. Tech Back Is Leading in Rushing

NEW YORK (AP) — National Collegiate Sports Services today reported the tightest race in 13 years for the college football total offense championship.

Four players have led the nation in four weeks. This week's leader is quarterback Don Strock of Virginia Tech, replacing Cornell running back Ed Marino, who fell to sixth.

Strock has accounted for 939 total yards in four games—a per-game average of 234.8.

Stanford's Don Bunce and Gary Huff of Florida State, both quarterbacks, remained 2-3 even though their averages dropped. Two other quarterbacks, Nebraska's Jerry Tagge and Purdue's Gary Danielson, moved up to fourth and fifth, respectively. Only 16.8 yards separate the top five.

Strock held onto his No. 1 ranking in pass completions, with 76 completions in 135 attempts. John Reeves of Florida and Auburn's Pat Sullivan trail.

Marino, closing in the all-time career rushing record, paced the nation's major collegians for the third consecutive week in rushing, scoring and overall running. He's covered 650 yards in only three games.

port to work from, Blass went about the job of dealing with the Orioles, who had slugged 24 hits and 16 runs in the first two games of the Series.

I was totally confused about what to do after they hit all those homers in the first game and all those singles in the next one," said Blass.

Manager Murtaugh talked the problem over with Blass before the game.

"Dagobert told me to pitch my own game," Blass said. "If I got beat, I wanted it to be against my best stuff."

He put everything in the right spot," said Manager Earl Weaver of the Orioles.

Now the Pirates hope Walker can do the same thing.

Royal Moans About His 'Cripples'

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Darrell Royal says he has a futile feeling when attempting to regroup his Longhorns after last week's loss to Oklahoma.

"I can regroup and get over a loss," he said. "But it's a pretty empty feeling when you don't have anybody to regroup. It's a rather helpless feeling when they're on crutches and wearing casts."

"When you lose top football players it affects all the players," Royal said in a telephone interview. "When everybody's out there hitting on all cylinders the average player performs like a top player. But when the top players are hurt the performance is spasmodic and the top players that are left become average players. When the locusts come they eat everything in sight."

So, what will the Longhorns do Saturday when they play Arkansas Saturday at Little Rock in a nationally televised game?

"I guess we'll just try to cover a fumble," Royal said. "We'll look around and see what's loose on the astroturf and we'll cover chin straps, popcorn sacks, whatever's loose. What we fall on might turn out to be the ball."

Royal says Texas' injury list is lengthy.

Quarterback Eddie Phillips was injured in the Longhorns' opener against UCLA and Donnie Wigginton came on the scene. Then, Wigginton was injured in the third quarter of the Oklahoma game and Phillips was forced back into action.

Royal says both will miss practice this week. He says that Wigginton will be out one to three weeks and that Phillips is "doubtful." "If he (Phillips) plays, he'll just be hobbling," Royal said. "He's not even a hull of himself."

Rob Riviere, a sophomore, has practiced at quarterback with the first offensive unit this week.

Royal also said halfback Don Burris would be out for at least three weeks with a collarbone separation. He says he does not think tight end Rick Davis will play and says there is "no doubt" that linebacker Glenn Gaspard will miss the game.

Royal says the injuries to Wigginton and Phillips are the most damaging.

"I'd rather have seven first teamers hurt if I could get the first two quarterbacks back," he said. "Those two are the injuries that are the biggest. You cover them and you cover most of it."

Royal said Arkansas fans probably believed he would pull another quarterback out of the hat who would be the equal of Phillips or Wigginton.

"Let them lose (Joe) Ferguson and the backup man and see how they like it," he said. "Shoot, I'd like to play Oklahoma without their first two quarterbacks and (Greg) Pruitt."

Royal conceded that the Texas team that took the field against UCLA may have been the best offensive team he has fielded since coming to Austin in 1957.

"Now, it's not even the same look," he said. "We were an outstanding offensive football team when we went to UCLA. Each week something more has happened to us."

"Now, we've got even more pressure on our defense," he said. "We've had some troubles defensively all year, but our offense has been strong enough to control the football."

Royal says he's known all along that Arkansas has an outstanding attack and adds that the Razorbacks' defense has been improving.

"They're playing darn fine football," Royal said. "They have an aggressive style of play. They're just unimpressive and letting them come and they come at you. They look like they're soft at one or two sports, but when they're coming they don't look soft. They've chosen to line up deeper and come forward."

Out of the Frying Pan... Colorado-Oklahoma in Big Match

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
The Original Drawback

Faded friends, it's out of the frying pan into the fire for the Oklahoma Sooners again this week. After having met and conquered the powerful Southern California Trojans and Texas Longhorns on the past two Saturdays, this week the Sooners invade the home pasture of the stampeding Colorado Buffaloes.

Can the Sooners (4-0) corral the Buffaloes, who have thundered past such worthy foes as LSU, Ohio State, Kansas State, Wyoming and Iowa State in 1971? Yes, The Hoople System says!

The point-happy Oklahoma offensive crew (41.5 average in '71) will outscore the Colorado lads (29.22 in a down-to-the-wire finish—hak-kaff!

In addition to this top-rated Big Eight showdown there are such other crowd pleasers as Alabama-Tennessee, Texas-Arkansas, and Northwestern-Purdue.

In the Bama-Tennessee encounter, your faithful correspondent looks for Johnny Musso and his Crimson Tide mates to edge the rugged Volunteers by a narrow 27-25 count at Birmingham, in the tie-breaker of this long-time rivalry. Going into Saturday's contest the record stands at 23 wins for Alabama, 23 victories for Tennessee, and 7 ties.

Texas and Arkansas meet

The Old Boy Himself

on the magic lantern for the third consecutive year and I regret to report to the many Texas followers of this column their stalwarts are in for their second defeat of the year. Yes, dear readers, The Razorbacks shall prevail, 25-20—um-kumph!

The Northwestern-Purdue engagement matches those peerless passers, Maurie Daigneau and Gary Danielson. Our crystal ball gives the edge to Daigneau and his Wildcats, 24-20.

The Hoople Upset of the Week will come as a shock to the good burghers of Toledo as invading Western Michigan brings to a halt the Rockets' 28-game winning streak. In a pressure-packed affair, we predict a Bronco triumph over Toledo by the margin of a single field goal, 27-24—har-rumph!

Now go on with the forecast.

Pruitt Named College Back of the Week

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Greg "Corvette" Pruitt, Oklahoma's comet halfback, is an unusual guy who does unusual things both on and off the football field.

Pruitt gets his nickname from the sports car he owns although he says he prefers to ride a bicycle to his classes at the University of Oklahoma—and from his uncanny speed on the gridiron.

That speed was evident last Saturday when the 5-foot-9, 176-pound scatback scored three touchdowns and ripped off 219 yards rushing as the Sooners toppled previously unbeaten Texas, 48-27.

Pruitt earned a rare honor—he was named Wednesday as The Associated Press national college Back of the Week for the second straight week.

Pruitt, a junior from Houston, is known as a complex individual—a confident sort whose exuberance might be mistaken for cockiness at times. To his teammates, he's a "good guy," team player who not only runs but blocks like crazy.

Pruitt showed his exuberance in the dressing room two weeks ago after the Sooners had crushed Southern California, 33-20. Pruitt dashed for 205 yards and scored three TDs in that game to earn designation as back of the week for the first time. He said, "Texas is going to catch a lot of hell down there next week."

Oklahoma Coach Chuck Fairbanks said he has never before seen a player put together back-to-back weeks like Pruitt.

Porkers Lead in Offense, Defense

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Christian's Bobby Davis has surged into the Southwest Conference rushing lead with a 167-yard performance against Oklahoma State Saturday.

Davis is averaging 99 yards per game with Arkansas sophomore Dicky Morton a close second in total offense to Arkansas' Joe Ferguson and second in tandem offense to SMU's Alvin Maxson who has 102.5 yards per contest.

Ferguson has a total offense lead of 211.8 yards per contest and has completed 14.4 yards per game to own the passing lead. Arkansas' Mike Reppond hiked his lead in receiving to an average of 4.4 catches per game.

Texas' Donnie Wigginton, who was injured in the 48-27 loss to Oklahoma, holds the scoring lead with seven touchdowns for an average of 10.5 points per contest.

In team statistics, Arkansas leads in total offense with a 476 yard average and team defense with a 249.8 yard average.

Indians Scrimmage for 2 Hours

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State's Indians went through a two-hour scrimmage Tuesday in preparation for Saturday's game with Louisiana Tech.

Coach Bill Davidson said it was unusual to have a scrimmage after the season gets under way, but he felt it was necessary to get ready for Tech.

"We'll probably hit again today for 30 or 45 minutes," Davidson said. "We have to get ready to play Saturday."

Texas Tech Player Cited for Defense

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Marc Dove wishes to do unto others before they do him.

That's the philosophy of the peppery Texas Tech defensive back and it earned him The Associated Press Southwest Conference defensive player of the week accolades for his performance in a 28-7 victory over Texas A&M.

"I play real tight on my man," Dove explains. "I try to make things happen instead of them happening to me. I try to challenge the receiver instead of letting him challenge me. I play for the interceptions every down."

Dove intercepted two passes against the Aggies and returned one 39 yards for a touchdown to give Tech a 21-7 lead. He also batted down two long bombs, ran back seven punts for 86 yards, and recovered a fumble on the A&M six-yard line that set up the first Red Raider touchdown.

Two weeks ago Dove returned an interception 69 yards for a touchdown against Arizona.

Dove likes that punt returning business.

"When I get in that sort of a situation (open field), I'm kind of in my own backyard. I watch the top return me in the pros and learn a lot from them. I watch guys like Lem Barney (of Detroit). They put these little moves on and they've been real successful. I try to imitate them."

Dove is an avid outdoorsman who owns a most unusual vehicle. It is built high off the ground like a pickup. It has bucket seats in the front and a bench seat with an arm rest in the back equipped with a gun rack.

Dove's wife calls it "The skunk."

"She calls it the skunk because it is black and white," says Dove. "It kind of looks like the skunk."

Pirates' Hero Admits Gets Nervous

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Forget the common image of baseball heroes—unflappable types exuding strength and confidence.

Meet Steve Blass of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"I get very nervous before a big game," said the soft-spoken right-hander after pitching a clutch 5-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday in the third game of the World Series.

Being nervous is only part of the Blass life-style. He professed to childish exuberance after his three-hitter against the slugging Orioles, claiming he's still a kid at heart.

"Being in a World Series—wow! It's been the greatest thing that's ever happened to me," said Blass, his eyes glittering with unabashed pleasure. "And this World Series has been everything I ever thought it would be."

Another slice of the Blass makeup is his intellectual approach to life. He reads a lot, which he says is good. But he also thinks too much, which he says is bad.

"I can't sleep when I think about what I have to do in a World Series," he said. "Before I pitched Tuesday, I tried to go to sleep for three hours—and it was eight o'clock before I knew it, and time to get up and get ready for the ballgame."

Blass wasn't counting sheep, he said. "I was counting people ... Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson, Boog Powell ..."

Cannon Signs, Causes Cage Controversy

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The American Basketball Association Tuesday night announced the signing of Denver Rockets guard Larry Cannon to a multi-year contract, triggering an immediate controversy.

ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph said an investigation of the actions of the Memphis club will be made.

Cannon and his agent, Steve Arnold, contend that Cannon is a free agent because the Denver team breached a contract signed when Cannon turned pro two years ago.

Dolph, however, said the ABA has not recognized the signing of Cannon by Memphis, "and he cannot play for Memphis until an investigation is made."

Alex Hannum, president, general manager and coach of the Rockets, said the Denver club views its contract with Cannon as valid and will go to court if necessary.

Star Cager to Undergo Examination

By BERT ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Sports Writer
Muscular Bob Lanier, the hulking center who helped the Detroit Pistons get off on the right foot in the 1971-72 National Basketball Association season, will undergo X-rays today for a possible fracture of his small left toe.

The 6-foot-11 Lanier, now a trim but still powerful 263 pounds, was told Tuesday night that his toe was broken after he had led the Pistons to a 91-84 victory over the New York Knicks in the season opener for both clubs.

In other openers, Seattle overwhelmed Buffalo 122-90, Cincinnati trimmed Atlanta 127-113, and Philadelphia beat Chicago 114-100.

Lanier, the former All-American from St. Bonaventure who lost 22 pounds in a summer exercising program, said he bruised his toe Monday in an accident at home. "It was all right against the Knicks," he continued, "until somebody—either Willis Reed or Dave DeBusschere—jumped on it with five or six minutes left in the game."

Lanier finished the game, playing a total of 46 minutes, and wound up the game's high scorer with 29 points. He also grabbed 17 rebounds, tying the Knicks' Jerry Lucas for top honors. Afterward, the physician at New York's Madison Square Garden made the diagnosis of the broken toe.

"I hope I won't have to miss any games," said Lanier after outmuscled Reed.

After the game, the Pistons flew to Detroit, where Lanier will undergo X-rays of his ailing toe today.

Last Season, his first in the NBA, Lanier was slowed by a right knee which had undergone surgery. Still, he averaged 15.6 points a game and was second on the Pistons in rebounding with 665.

The big pivotman also revealed that the Pistons had held a team meeting earlier Tuesday in an effort to smooth out some internal problems.

"Some of the guys were bickering at each other," he explained. "We have an abundance of forwards and some of them were unhappy about not playing enough."

Also, in the pre-season games, we weren't looking out for each other on the court, and we wanted to establish more consistency. You've got to be self-sacrificing on the court and be consistent to make the playoffs. We weren't that way last season," when the Pistons won their first nine games but failed to make the playoffs.

Actually, they finished with a 45-37 record, their best since 1957, but had the misfortune of playing in the Midwest Division, where all four clubs played over 550 ball. They wound up in last place.

Have Bing, the Pistons' scoring leader in each of his five seasons on the club, contributed 24 points against the Knicks, including 10 in the second half.

Reed, who underwent knee surgery after last season, paced the Knicks with 20 points, but snared only nine rebounds. Lucas, in his first regular-season game as a Knick, hit on only one of 12 field goal attempts. Over all the Knicks sank 36 of 94 field attempts for 38 per cent, compared to Detroit's 35-77 for 45-1 per cent.

Fisher, Baker Continue to Lead AIC

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Johnny Baker of Ouachita and Phil Fisher of Arkansas Tech continue to be the top yardage makers in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference with first place rankings in rushing, passing and total offense.

Baker, who leads in rushing, has raised his 1971 running production to 667 yards while sparking Ouachita to four straight victories. Fisher has 558 yards through the air and a total offense of 737 yards in Tech's five victories.

Rick Thone of Tech has grabbed 24 of Fisher's passes for 473 yards and three touchdowns to lead the receivers.

Harding's Alan Dixon remains the leading scorer with 36 points.

Action in the National Hockey Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Vancouver Canucks and the St. Louis Blues cracked the win column Tuesday night for the first time in the young National Hockey League season.

The Canucks, beaten in their first two games, shaded the Philadelphia Flyers 3-2. The Blues whacked the Buffalo Sabres 4-1 to even their record in the new season at 1-1.

Andre Boudrias banged home two goals in the second period to lead the Canucks to their victory over the Flyers before 15,570 fans on home ice.

Chris Brodeleau assisted on three goals for the Blues to delight a turnout of 17,583 at St. Louis. Brodeleau had a hand in the goals tallied by Gary Sabourin, Noel Picard and Bill Sutherland. Richard Martin got the Buffalo goal for a 1-1 tie early in the game before the Blues pulled away.

No other NHL games were scheduled Tuesday night.

Michigan Is Showing Way in Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Unde-feated Michigan, the nation's third-ranked team in this week's Associated Press football poll, is showing the way in major-college defensive categories.

Statistics compiled by the National Collegiate Sports Services disclosed that the Wolverines, winners of five straight, lead in both rushing defense and scoring defense. They also are second in total defense rankings.

Michigan displaced Kansas State as the rushing defense leader by limiting Michigan State to 59 yards last Saturday. Overall, Michigan has held its foes to an average of 57.2 yards per game on the ground. Wolverine opponents have scored only 3.8 points per game.

Miami of Ohio boasts the stingiest total defense with an average of 135 yards per game. Runnerup Michigan has given up 165.4 yards rushing and passing.

Cincinnati replaced Southern California as the pass defense pace-setter, yielding 55.8 yards a game. Utah is best in team punting for the third week in a row with a 48.5 average.

Opening lead—♦ Q

By Oswald & James Jacoby

North's jump to four spades showed a minimum opening with very good spade support. South considered a grand slam bid after North showed two kings in response to the Blackwood five no-trump, but was wise enough to settle for six.

When he looked over dummy, he saw that even six was in jeopardy, since there were no ruffing values in either hand.

This didn't upset South too much. He had been in worse contracts before. He let the diamond run around to his ace and drew trumps with three leads. Then he cashed all the hearts and dummy's king of diamonds.

Next came the play of the third diamond. West found himself on lead and South had established a classic elimination position.

According to the books South will make his contract provided the club honors are split. A low club lead will take care of one honor—a finesse, the other one.

However, West had also read the books. He led the jack of clubs. Now what

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

If Personality Shifts, See Physician

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Sometime ago my husband had back surgery due to a bad fall. He was off work approximately three months. Shortly after returning to work he would come home from work and yawn and yawn until bedtime. This was unusual for him. He said he was just tired.

A month later I noticed his personality had changed. He seemed pleased about everything and smiled all the time—even when lying down resting the smile was there.

He was not a happy person before. He was sober. You couldn't tell if you were pleasing him or not. This change has been most frustrating. I don't feel I know my husband any more. He is 58 years old.

He has gotten over the pleased expression now but he is still different. He forgets things and doesn't seem to know what I'm talking about part of the time. The doctor suggested that he have a complete checkup but he refuses to go.

My intuition tells me he has been unfaithful but he denies this. Do I have a sick husband or does he have a sick wife? My intuition has never misled me before. What is your opinion of the smiles and docile behavior pattern?

Dear Reader—If your husband has in fact had a personality change he definitely should have a complete evaluation. Personality changes can occur because of disease of the arteries which may cause unrecognized "little strokes." This can result in forgetfulness but that problem isn't limited to people should South do? It looked as if West had made a false lead from queen-jack-small. At least, he might have done that.

South finally decided that he had based his play on finding split honors. He rose with dummy's ace and made his contract by finessing against East.

You, South, hold:
♠ A K 10 6 2 ♥ A 2 ♦ 8 ♣ A K 10 6 2
What do you do now?

A—Bid six spades. You do not use Blackwood unless you intend to bid a slam if your side holds three aces.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding three hearts, your partner has jumped to four hearts over your two spades. What do you do now?

with brain disease.

There are other disorders of the brain that can cause a change in personality.

It is clear that you are not happy in your current marriage situation. This means you should try to resolve the problem for that reason alone. Perhaps that would be a good basis for discussion of the problem. You might suggest that you both have a complete checkup, which is sensible anyway for a couple in your age group.

I have great respect for women's intuition but there are many reasons why a man smiles besides another woman.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I had high cholesterol (328) and I went on a strict diet and brought it down to 235 in about two months which I think is below normal.

The doctor told me to keep on with the diet. Is it possible to get your cholesterol too low? Is it harmful to be below normal?

Dear Reader—Your experience shows what can be done with diet alone. No! 235 is not below normal. Many young vigorous pilots competing to enter the astronaut program had values below 200 and the same was true for many of the athletes I have examined. There is no such thing as too low a value in blood cholesterol measurements.

Says Mercury Concern Is Unwarranted

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Recent concern over mercury levels in fish and lakes may be unwarranted because mercury levels in human tissues have declined, researchers say. Reporting findings of their study to the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association, the researchers Tuesday blamed part of the mercury scare on "emotionalism and ignorance."

Their study was done at Saratoga General Hospital in Detroit, Mich., and involved analysis of tissues taken from human organs at autopsy between 1913 and 1970 and preserved at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

The tissue was taken from the bodies of 59 Michigan residents who had died of causes unrelated to mercury.

The authors said that concern over mercury contamination "had profound social reverberations in the form of mass anxiety leading to ... action—often with little or no scientific basis—resulting in chaos, fear, and the economic pain of damaged or killed sectors of industry and commerce."

While research has been conducted on mercury levels in fish, little has been done on mercury content of human tissues, they said. It is presumed that high mercury levels result in damage to the central ner-

Bumpers Ping-pong Diplomacy

MOSCOW (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers of Arkansas tried his hand at ping-pong diplomacy Tuesday on his arrival at Tbilisi, capital of the Georgian Republic, along with seven other touring American governors.

On a visit to an agricultural school the governors saw a group of students playing table tennis. Bumpers grabbed a paddle and exchanged a few shots with a Russian youth, but a member of the party reported no score was kept.

The governors were guests at a dinner given by Georgian agricultural officials. Gov. John A. Love of Colorado and Luis A. Ferre of Puerto Rico took part in some traditional Georgian dances during the evening.

Ferre offered one of the toasts at the dinner, "to the youth of the Soviet Union."

During a tour of Tbilisi, Gov. William G. Milliken of Michigan drew a small crowd when he started shaking hands with passersby outside the city hall.

Milliken told the Tbilisi mayor that "many of our problems are similar, including the problems of pollution and education." He also expressed interest in increasing the sale of U.S. farm products in the Soviet Union.

Others in the party are Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland, Gov. David Hall of Oklahoma, and Gov. Stanley K. Hathaway of Wyoming.

On Wednesday, the group is to visit a state farm and attend a dinner offered by the Georgian Council of Ministers. The guided tour is part of a cultural exchange agreement between the Soviet Union and the United States. Next year a group of Soviet officials are to visit the United States.

Lets NCAA Citation Continue

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association is on sort of a year of good behavior.

District Judge Robert Simms, who admits he is a football fan, Tuesday continued a contempt citation against the NCAA until three days after the next annual Oklahoma-Texas football game in Dallas.

It was his ruling on the contempt citation which followed an injunction last week prohibiting the NCAA from trying to prevent the showing of the Oklahoma-Texas game on TV in Tulsa. The NCAA had previously restricted the Tulsa area to closed-circuit TV broadcast and that decision was not changed.

After his injunction was issued, Simms took exception to what he considered efforts by the NCAA to threaten sanctions against the two universities if they permitted Tulsa to show the game on TV.

While ruling out a fine or other punishment against the NCAA, Simms announced in court:

"Let the word be carried back to them—the NCAA and its television committee—that the Oklahoma-Texas game is a minor civil war skirmish with the 50-yard line at the Cotton Bowl the battle line."

"The taxpayers are entitled to view it, otherwise it is discrimination."

Simms said that "many people of moderate means, and that includes the court, are unable to view on television the performance of the Sooners in that game." The game is held each year at Dallas which, he pointed out, is not a home-and-home arrangement.

"The NCAA must become aware of public interest ...," he said. "The Texas-Oklahoma game is a strange phenomenon."

He accepted an apology from the NCAA, then added:

"I feel the NCAA has come to the realization that the constitution provides three branches of government. They did not contemplate that the NCAA would be the fourth branch of government."

He agreed with the purposes of the NCAA to protect all schools—small as well as big—and said:

"But each situation, like each lawsuit, may lead to an exception to the rule."

Existing Important Differences Between Russia, China, U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The following are moves toward understanding and existing important differences in U.S. relations with mainland China and the Soviet Union:

Actions toward understanding:

—The four-power agreement on Berlin is the most important accomplishment in relations with the Soviet Union, representing the first written acceptance of Soviet responsibility for unimpeded access to the city.

—Although the SALT talks are still going on, the U.S. administration is satisfied they will yield results before the end of the year both in defensive and offensive nuclear weapons. Meanwhile there were some agreements on minor, related disarmament issues, such as the ban on placing nuclear weapons on the ocean floor and modernization of the Washington-Moscow hotline.

—Talks are under way on the reciprocal opening of consulates in Leningrad and San Francisco and on prevention of naval incidents.

—Cultural exchanges are continuing, but with some limitations because of Soviet sensitivity over certain anti-Soviet demonstrations in the United States.

Differences:

—The main difference is on how to bring peace to the Middle East, though both Washington and Moscow insist on standing on the U.N. resolution of 1967 and neither wants the outbreak of a new war in the area.

—The Soviets would like to get most-favored-nation treatment for their exports and commercial credits.

—The United States is concerned over the increasing naval presence of the Soviet Union in the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean.

China

Moves toward understanding have primarily been made by the United States. They were:

—In July 1969 the United States relaxed restrictions on travel and on imports of tourists bringing home mainland China goods with a value ceiling of $100.

—In December 1969 $100 ceiling was removed and foreign subsidiaries of U.S. firms were permitted to trade with mainland China in nonstrategic goods.

—In April 1970 American oil companies abroad were permitted to supply oil to ships carrying cargo to mainland China.

—In June 1971 the United States dropped its 21-year-old trade embargo permitting the import of all Chinese goods and the export of all nonstrategic goods.

Differences:

—Mainland China insists that Taiwan must be ousted from the U.N. The United States wants both the mainland and Taiwan seated but concedes that Peking gets the permanent seat at the Security Council.

—Mainland China maintains Taiwan is a province and therefore U.S. military presence on the island and in the Taiwan Strait represents aggression.

The United States says its military role in Taiwan is based on a defense treaty with a sovereign country.

—China wants all foreign troops withdrawn from foreign bases wherever they are. The Nixon doctrine foresees reduction of U.S. military role in the defense of these countries but within the framework of existing multi-and bilateral defense pacts.

—Mainland China is concerned over what it describes

Mike Curtis Is NFL Best of the Week

NEW YORK (AP) — "We've always felt," Baltimore line-backing coach Hank Bullough said, "that Mike Curtis was the best middle line-backer in pro football. But what he did Sunday puts him in a class of the great ones—putting on a great performance when he had a pretty good injury."

What Curtis did was intercept two passes, lead the defensive charge that sacked Buffalo quarterbacks nine times and come up with six unassisted tackles in the Colts' 43-0 crushing of the Bills.

The brilliant performance, as increasing Japanese militarism. The United States believes that Japan should play a greater role in the Pacific area.

New Asphalt Price-fixing Suit Filed

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Atty. Gen. Larry Derryberry filed a new asphalt price-fixing suit totaling an estimated $40 million against 12 oil companies Tuesday on behalf of cities, counties and other subdivisions of state government.

The suit was filed in Oklahoma City U.S. District Court in the name of the Custer County Board of County Commissioners and J.D. Metcalfe, Inc., a Tulsa contracting firm. But Odie A. Nance, assistant attorney general, said it will be amended later to include all cities and counties in the state.

The suit seeks recovery of asphalt purchases from July 22, 1961, through Dec. 31, 1968. Nance said the statute of limitations would have expired on part of that period if the suit had not been filed now.

The previous suit, brought on behalf of the state, sought a total of $37 million in damages. It led to a $4.6 million damage award by a federal court jury.

The judgment was settled for $2.5 million by former Atty. Gen. G. T. Blankenship. The settlement has been challenged in a suit now pending in state court.

The new suit specifically alleges Custer County suffered $72,000 in actual damages because of a price-fixing conspiracy. Under the federal statutes, the county would be entitled to triple damages if it wins the suit.

Nance said the final figure, counting triple damages, probably will come to about $40 million for all the cities, counties and sub-divisions "because I believe they probably bought more than the state did."

The suit names as defendants the Wilshire Oil Co. of Texas; Mid-America Refining Co.; Apco Oil Corp.; Mobil Oil Corp.; Farmland Industries, Inc.; Sun Oil Co.; Kerr-McGee Corp.; American Petrofina Co. of Texas; American Oil Co.; Phillips Petroleum Co.; Skelly Oil Co. and Colorado Oil and Gas Corp.

The suit alleges the companies entered into a conspiracy to fix and maintain the price of liquid asphalt products and allocated territories between themselves in which such products would be sold.

Nance said the suit ultimately will include asphalt sales in Kansas and the western half of Missouri and said the chief attorneys for the three states may work together in prosecuting the action.

carried out despite a painful fractured left hand, earned Curtis the game ball on the vote by his teammates and his selection today as the National Football League Defensive Player of the Week.

The 6-foot-2, 232-pounder beat out linebacker Lee Roy Jordan of the Dallas Cowboys and cornerback Gene Howard of the Los Angeles Rams in The Associated Press poll.

Curtis was the foundation in the Baltimore wall that limited Buffalo's total offense to just 49 yards, including a measly four on the ground.

It was the Colts' second shut-out. In four games, they have allowed just 17 points. They haven't allowed a touchdown in eight quarters and haven't been scored upon in six.

Curtis was injured in their second game, a 14-13 loss to Cleveland, and was not expected to dress for the Buffalo game. He still had two pins in his broken left hand and was wearing a special cast halfway up his forearm, approved by the NFL officials before the game.

"We decided on the field prior to the game that I would start," Curtis said. "I was in pain and it hurt a lot every time I made contact."

"Fortunately, we got ahead early, which made them pass a lot. I don't know how many tackles I had left in that arm," said the seven-year pro, a full-back and line-backing star at Duke and the Colts' No. 1 draft choice in 1965.
